Personal Qualifications:

As I have been living in London as well and in Norway I have already started my global citizenship, which has made me more independent and determined. When I set out to do something I do not rest until the job is done, and do not appreciate results that could have been solved better. I am always punctual and like to get a head start on things if possible. I like informal surroundings, where employees are free to create their own solutions according to company policy and also enjoy teamwork.

Hobbies:

I do Martial Arts, read books and play the violin

Further information:

I am a secretary to a blind person and a volunteer at Vejle crisis center for battered women, in my spare time which has given me a different perspective on many levels.

I won the gold medal in European Logistics Planning 2007 (student level) I am a member of the “Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport”, UK
